New Cambium has been conceived as a naturist, clothes-optional community which is tolerant to all and aims to bring its residents into a closer harmony with nature and our natural state. In order to facilitate these objectives it is necessary to expect a standard of behaviour which is both respectful and respectable.

As with society at large the New Cambium community accepts single persons of both sex, couples, families with children of all ages and same-sex couples, equally and without discrimination. All are welcome and need to feel accepted by the community or there is a fundamental failure in the enterprise. Nudity in and around one's own property is a matter of personal preference but it is hoped the residents and visitors will enjoy the sense of freedom it brings. Outside of one's own property but within the estate you may go nude or covered, partially or wholly, whichever makes you feel comfortable, both for yourself and the prevailing weather. Please expect that at times you are likely to meet others who may be either totally nude or only partially clothed. Please refrain from appearing nude close to the estate boundaries where you might be visible to passers-by outside of New Cambium.

It is expected that around the communal facilities the emphasis will be on nude recreation and that users of the swimming pool in particular will discard any clothing before entering the water.

Lewd, lascivious or overtly sexual behaviour or language will not be tolerated. You should at all times and in all circumstances behave in such a way as you can be certain that you will not cause offence to others. If you find you are subjected to behaviour you deem unacceptable please report the incident to a member of the management team. Repeat offenders will be required to vacate New Cambium and may not be permitted to return.

The Agent reserves the right to make reasonable additions to or to revise or amend this Code of Conduct.
